Make & Drive '17

Wouldn't it be such a great opportunity if we could brighten up a kid's day or maybe build a future for them with just a little act of kindness? We have all been blessed and fortunate to be brought up in a warm loving family with support and mentorship from our parents, yet a lot of the kids at the orphanage have never even seen their parents in their life?

The time is now..

We ran a successful charity event back in 2013, where we took the kids from the orphanages for a ride in our supercars, booked a theater for the "Turbo" movie and we even indulge in a sumptuous dinner prepared by TGI Friday. The kids are all smiling from cheek to cheek but personally I felt that the event is still missing something it did not brought as much impact or value to enrich their life as I have hoped.

The difference this round

By putting my other network into play, we will try to inspire the kids by introducing them to the Makers committee. By igniting their inborn curiosity to make and create everyday item.

Our main goal is to prepare & pair the kids with passionate professional mentors which could lay out the foundation for them to be ready to thrive in our technologically driven society.

Of course as saying goes “All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy”. We will still be providing the usual car show and ride event and full dinner after the learning session.

Proposed learning program

After all, this is a Car themed event, we are going to touch on a “Making” topic in a similar related field. After much brainstorming with some intellects within our group, we finally decided on teaching the kids to construct a digital FM radio & amplifier.

Each kids from the orphanage will be provided with a electronic kit that would allow them to build/construct a working digital FM radio paired with a Solid-state powered LM386 audio amplifier, they would also get their hands dirty with building a speaker enclosure from scratch as well !!

We have also arranged with numerous passionate working professionals from the industry to spend the day to guide and teach the kids every step of the way.

Other learning opportunity

Apart from the electronics makers, other professionals in the automotive industries will be making their appearances too, automotive audio system specialist, vintage car restorer, car livery decals creator just to name a few. Each will spend a bit of time to explain to the kids about their profession, a career talk of sort and they will be bringing with them their greatest demo show pieces and possibly even provide some hands-on in their respective field.

Orphanage: Penang Shan Children's Home Association

Penang Shan Children's Home (PSCH) began as a dream and initiative of Dr. S Balakrishnan in the year 2005.

This is a non-religious and a non-profit, non-governmental organization catering to the needs of orphans, neglected children, dysfunctional families and single parents.

The home was built and officially launched on 14th December 2008 by Madam Chan Siew Har. PSCH's mission is to maximize the attractive opportunities that are stored in the children; to make something happen; to change the ways that things are and to create something that no one else has ever created before for the children, to explore for opportunities; to provide guidance and course correction; maintaining focus on being consistent and persistent.

Orphanage: St. Joseph's Home
(Pending)

The home was first founded in 1891 and was then known as St Joseph's Orphanage. With the changing trends in society in the 1990s and the rise in problems faced by families, there was pressure to expand the services of the orphanage in order to be more responsive and relevant in society. Hence St. Joseph's Orphanage opened its doors to include not only orphans, but also to boys and girls of all religions and ethnicity who came from very poor socio-economic and psychological backgrounds. St. Joseph's Orphanage became St. Joseph's Home

The Home has established vocational skills training for those in the Home and outside the Home (those of poor social economic background) who are not academically inclined so that they can be independent in the future. They have also started a new program on teaching/learning methods to stimulate and motivate the children towards learning. This is done by activity-based learning, which is conducted in small groups of six children at the maximum.
